

Mouserobics!

Directions: What do you know about how your computer mouse works? Use the information at the Website provided to master the use of the mouse along with lots of other valuable information.

1. Double-click the Internet Explorer icon to start the Internet.

2. Find the Address bar at the top of the window, and click anywhere inside it.

a. The address bar should look something like one of the pictures below:

b. The text inside the address bar should now be highlighted in blue, and will be replaced with what you type next.

3. Type this address:
